

Spanish A1 — Session 9 Homework

Crescere | Beginner Spanish | Session 9

Complete before Session 10 | Estimated time: 20–30 minutes

Part 1 — Tener from Memory

Write the full conjugation of tener without looking at your notes. Then check.

Subject	Tener
yo tú
él / ella / usted nosotros/as vosotros/as ellos / ellas / ustedes

Reminder: The yo form is irregular. If you wrote something that ends in -o without the g, go back and fix it.

Part 2 — Age and Tener Expressions (5 sentences)

Write complete sentences in Spanish. Do not use ser for age.

1. Write your own age.
2. Write the age of a family member or close friend.
3. Write the age of another family member using a different subject (él, ella, ellos, mis...).
4. Write a sentence using tener + a physical expression (hambre, sed, sueño, frío, or razón) — make it true or plausible.
5. Write a sentence about what a family member has — age, an expression, or a possession. Example:
Mi hermana tiene mucho trabajo. / Mis padres tienen hambre a las dos.

Part 3 — Family Description (5 sentences minimum)

Write a short description of your family or the people closest to you. Use mi/mis to link possessives to your family members. Aim for at least 5 sentences.

Required in your paragraph:

- ☐ At least two uses of tener (age or expression)
- ☐ At least one family member with mi or mis
- ☐ At least one regular verb (trabaja, vive, estudia, habla, etc.)
- ☐ At least one use of ser (identity, profession, or origin)
- ☐ No soy X años — age always uses tener

Part 4 — Speaking Practice

Read your Part 3 paragraph out loud, no notes on the third try. You do not need to record yourself, but you should be able to say it clearly from memory (or near-memory) by the time Session 10 starts.

Quick Check — Answers to Verify Part 2

Part 2 does not have fixed answers since the sentences are about your life. Use this to check your grammar:

- Age sentence: does it start with Tengo / Tiene / Tienen — NOT soy / es / son?
 - Mi/mis check: if the noun after mi/mis is plural, did you use mis? If singular, mi?
 - Tener expression: is the noun after tengo a bare noun (hambre, sed, sueño) without un/una/el/la? These expressions drop the article: tengo hambre, not tengo la hambre.

Extension (Optional)

If you want to push further:

1. Write 2 additional sentences about a person outside your immediate family — a close friend, a colleague, a neighbour. Use a different subject (ella, mi amiga, mi compañero de trabajo).
 2. Try one sentence with tener que + infinitivo: Tengo que trabajar mañana. — We will study this formally in Week 9, but you can try it now.
