

Spanish A1 — Week 7 Student Overview

Crescere | Beginner Spanish | Week 7

Theme: Shopping, Clothing, and the Market

What You Will Learn This Week

Week 7 takes you into two of the most practical Spanish shopping scenarios: a clothing shop and an outdoor market.

In Session 13, you will learn how to find, describe, and buy clothing. You will also learn demonstrative adjectives — este/esta/estos/estas and ese/esa/esos/esas — the words for "this/these" and "that/those." These are some of the most useful words in everyday Spanish conversation.

In Session 14, you will learn how to shop at a Spanish-speaking market: asking quantities, checking prices, and completing a purchase.

You already know querer and quisiera from Week 6. This week you learn what to call what you want.

What You Will Be Able to Say by the End of Week 7

In a clothing shop:

Hola. Busco un pantalón negro, talla M. ... ¿Tiene esta camisa en azul? ... ¿Me la puedo probar? ... ¿Cuánto cuesta? ... Me la llevo, gracias.

At a Spanish market:

Hola, buenos días. Quisiera un kilo de tomates y media docena de huevos. ¿A cuánto está el queso? ... Póngame 200 gramos, por favor. Nada más, gracias.

Describing what someone is wearing:

Llevo una camiseta blanca y unos vaqueros azules. Mi compañera lleva una chaqueta verde y unas botas negras.

Demonstrative Adjectives: Este and Ese

Spanish has two demonstrative series. The one you use depends on how far away the thing is.

Este / Esta / Estos / Estas — this, these (near you)

	Masculine	Feminine
Singular	este	esta
Plural	estos	estas

Este pantalón, esta camisa, estos zapatos, estas botas.

Ese / Esa / Esos / Esas — that, those (farther away)

	Masculine	Feminine
Singular	ese	esa
Plural	esos	esas

Ese vestido, esa chaqueta, esos vaqueros, esas botas.

In a shop: Esta camisa — the one I'm holding. Esa camisa — the one on the rack across the room.

Agree with the noun: The demonstrative must match the gender and number of the noun it goes with. Check the noun first, then choose the form.

Color Adjective Agreement

Colors in Spanish come after the noun and agree in gender and number:

Color	Masculine sing.	Feminine sing.	Plural (either gender)
black	negro	negra	negros / negras
white	blanco	blanca	blancos / blancas
red	rojo	roja	rojos / rojas
blue	azul	azul	azules
green	verde	verde	verdes
grey	gris	gris	grises
brown	marrón	marrón	marrones

Invariable colors — never change at all:

- naranja, rosa, beige, violeta — same form always: unos pantalones naranja, una camisa rosa

Quantities at the Market

After any quantity word, Spanish drops the article and uses just de:

- un kilo de tomates (not de los tomates)
- una botella de vino
- una docena de huevos
- 500 gramos de queso

When you say how much of something you want, the article disappears and only de remains.

Prices: ¿Cuánto cuesta? / ¿Cuánto cuestan?

- ¿Cuánto cuesta? — for one item (singular)
- ¿Cuánto cuestan? — for more than one item (plural)

The verb agrees with what you are asking about: one item → cuesta; several items → cuestan.

What to Practice Between Sessions

After Session 13 — before Session 14:

1. Learn 5 clothing items with their gender. Un pantalón, una camisa, una chaqueta, unos zapatos, unas botas. Say each one with a color: unos zapatos negros, una camisa blanca.
2. Practice the shopping phrases. Say "Busco una chaqueta verde, talla M" out loud. Then: "¿Me la puedo probar?"
3. Third try: no notes on the shopping phrases.

After Session 14 — before Session 15:

1. Say a market order out loud. Invent a list of 4 items. Say the full order: "Quisiera un kilo de tomates, por favor. Y medio kilo de queso."
 2. Practice the price question. "¿Cuánto cuesta?" — automatic. "¿Cuánto cuestan?" — when there are multiple items.
 3. Check demonstratives. Can you say the right form (este/esta/ese/esa) for any clothing noun without thinking?

A Note on Mistakes This Week

Two errors are very common:

1. Demonstrative gender errors. Esta pantalón (wrong) → este pantalón. The demonstrative must agree with the noun's gender. When in doubt, look at the article: un pantalón → masculine → este pantalón.
2. Color agreement errors. Un vestido roja (wrong) → un vestido rojo. The color must match the noun, not the item's real-world appearance. Vestido is masculine, so the color is masculine: rojo.

Both errors are mechanical — they come from not quite knowing the gender of the noun. The fastest fix is learning clothing nouns with their articles (la camisa, el pantalón) from the start.
